REFLECTIONS

Robin,
To a real good friend.
We had a lot of fun this year. Hope you'll have many classes next year! I really enjoyed your writing more classes than you were in this year. I hope you come here next year! You'll be glad you did if you come to Pontiac Catholic!
Love,
Maureen

Robin,
You're a real great friend. It's just too bad I'll go to another school because I won't be able to get to know you better. I really like you and hope you have some great classes ahead. Be as much as you can and I'm always out for cheerleading. Good luck always! Make it try out for a 1st Base you don't next year!
Love,
Sue Pollack

I had some great times with you even though we only been here a half of year. Enjoy the rest of this summer!

Robin,
Stay as sweet as you are. We had alot of crazy things go on up Latin class. I'll never forget that class. Well have a good summer and remember Jesus loves you.
You bitch,
Rosie (268-1506)

-Robin-

You are a really sweet person whom I hope to know a lot better in the future you made it through Latin,
I said you would. well anyways good luck in everything you do, K.I.T 751-0448 R.M.A

P.S. Stay the way you are, and don't lose your sense of Humor.

Robin,
It's been Fun having you in gym you where always someone Fun to try our hardest to skip gym, play volleyball, tennis, badmitten with & all those other Fun sports (especially with Joe Ski (thats all I knew of his name. I hope I have you in a bunch of classes next year instead of just 1. Smile.
Sharon.

Robin,
To a really nice girl who I just met this year in Latin. I really don't think WE'll EVER forget Latin or Sr. Pat's constant questions and drilling!
I wish I could have ~~got~~ to know you ~~so~~ better this year - well there's always next year!

☺ Love,

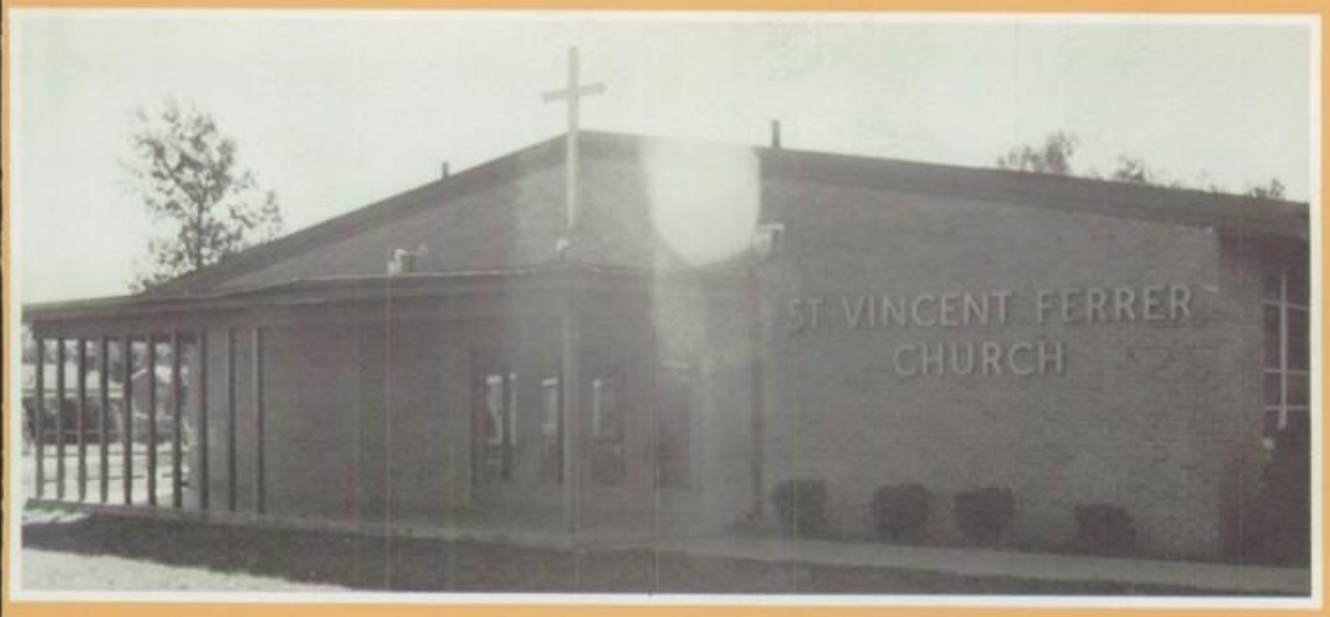
Faith Community inspires spirituality



3†

As a Community of Faith, Bishop Foley High School has a quasi-independent life of its own, but it is also part of a larger community of parish life. Foley and its supporting parishes contribute to and enrich each other. Foley is a unique expression of the effort by the parishes to achieve the purpose of Catholic Education: Message, Community, and Service.

Board determines future goals, policies

The Bishop Foley School Board is made up of members from the two founding parishes (St. Dennis and Guardian Angels) and two members from all other parishes sending children to Bishop Foley. The Board is the policy-making group for the school. An immediate goal of the group is the building of a faith community within the student body, faculty, staff, parents, and community within which we live. The Board is dedicated to the future well-being of Bishop Foley and wants to do everything to insure that future well-being.

Awareness inspires Christian sharing

3↑

Students reach in to find themselves while they reach out with helping hands toward others. They celebrate and pray at mass as classes, and as a family. Students attain a deep self-awareness through retreats to the Christian Friendship House. Upperclassmen enjoy a three day session and grow in sincere unity. At Foley, underclassmen spend a year studying scripture. Sophomores, in out-religion, offer service in helping rest home patients, handicapped children, and in tutoring youngsters. Juniors cope with the present in Morality class. They prepare for the future in Death and Dying and Future Shock, while Seniors plan ahead in Marriage and Child Development classes.

Future mathematicians probe new theories

Math is one of Foley's exceptional fields of study this year. All students are introduced to new concepts that challenge logical minds, or reinforce old forgotten ideas. First year students probe concepts in basic Math, pre-Algebra, or Algebra; second year students pursue Geometry; third year students explore Trigonometry; experienced fourth year students study pre-Calculus. Computer and Fortran students explore the computer system for answers.

Students develop awareness for science

Many classes are being offered this year: Biology, Physics, Chemistry, Advanced Biology, and Advanced Chemistry. Challenging students in the fascinating world of the laboratory, proves to be the best part of the class. Involved students enjoy new ideas presented daily. When experiments fail, no matter how infrequent, students probe for reasons why. Experiments vary from examining paramecium to conjuring up sodium bicarbonate. Who knows? . . . maybe someday one of these students will become another Galileo, or maybe even Einstein.

Experience helps Foley students learn

Over the years Foley's history department has experienced much advancement. With many experienced teachers, a great variety of courses have been offered. The seniors have such classes as American Government, and Michigan history, while the juniors are offered U.S. History. The freshmen learn about early times in World History. With the knowledgeable experience of various and wide selection of history courses, students realize the importance of the world around them.

Language scholars attempt to communicate

To master and perfect the language that keeps cultures running smoothly, students elect the language program. Eyes blurred from films and filmstrips, ears numb from records, students return daily to use other audio-visual facilities. Teaching students the art of communication is also achieved through the daily practice of reading, writing, and speaking.

1. Mastering the language is challenging for Cindy McGuinness. 2. Ms. Joan Hennessey uses various techniques to bring her French across. 3. Alison Fraser attentively listens during French class. 4. With use of labs, Mrs. Arriola brings Latin to her students. 5. Carol Beck diligently searches for an answer. 6. Linda Polus and Mike Covatch listen intently during Spanish class. 7. Mike Patritto strives to comprehend new verb forms.

Students discover careers in business

Many students are seeking careers in business and Foley offers a variety of courses which interest them. The business department, headed by Mr. Gary Betzler, is as efficient as ever with classes such as typing, shorthand, accounting, business law and general business. A new and more advanced business course, Business Principles and Management, demonstrates the handling of one's own business and understanding advertisement. At the end of the year many students will have secured the knowledge about common business practices.

Home Ec. instills students' independence

The home economics classes at Foley are turning into something very special. The students learn everything from the basics of threading a needle to staging a talent show for the Mother's Club. Department head Sr. Dolores demonstrates in the Bachelor living class, the importance of capably surviving on your own. The girl's home ec. classes gain complete knowledge of making several items of clothing and of cooking a variety of astronomical delights. At the end of each class, students feel that living on your own may not be so disastrous after all.

Art students create imaginary world

3↑

Student artists show their self-expression through the originality of creation. First year students learn the basics while advanced artists and craftsmen develop technique and specialize in graphics, ceramics, sculpture, drawing and 3-D design. Muralists create color schemes in the library. The seniors paint their final piece of artwork for the school. The viewers, as well as teacher, Jan Danosky, and the students themselves are quite pleased at the artistic array displayed at the annual art show.

Drafting, computer create career ideas

For the student who is looking for a career after high school, drafting and computer are two courses which can prepare him for future job opportunities. In Drafting, taught by Mr. Robert Moison, one learns the basic language of engineering. The "hopeful" architect then proceeds to build his own miniature house in balsa wood, or design a Commercial Building. Computer class stresses the importance of writing programs, and interpreting your output.

Music dept. starts out on right note

In one of Foley's happy departments, the music students liven up the atmosphere with harmony. Gary Brandt directs the three choirs — Acappella, Treble, and Varsity. All choirs demonstrate their vocal talents in several concerts, including a candlelight performance and a mini-pop session, along with music festivals with neighboring schools. The pep band celebrates life with music. Practice begins at 7:00 a.m. Sleepy-eyed yet enthusiastic, the musicians give it their all, whether playing the theme from "Rocky" or doing, "The Hustle". With three year's growth, under Ron Wallen's direction, they perform at pep rallies, homecoming, and choral concerts.

English classes show hidden talents

A noun, a verb? . . . you mean there's a difference? The English Department tries to answer these questions and clarify any other grammatical or literary problems. A variety of courses offered this year give students the opportunity to choose electives, as well as basic courses. To improve his reading ability and comprehension, a student may elect Sr. Carol's Reading class. Some of the other classes offered this year are: The Novel, Shakespeare, Advanced Composition, Art of Motion Picture, Journalism, Creative Writing, and Mass Media.

Journalism aims for accuracy, perfection

The Yearbook and Journalism classes are an active part in the communicative media around Bishop Foley. The Newspaper staff which distributes the Venturian, is effective in reporting activities that happen in and around school. The 1978 Reflections Yearbook staff, express a momentous year through their work in selecting pictures, cropping them, and writing about the functions and activities which happen in Bishop Foley throughout that year. SENIORS

Seniors hold their past in memories

Freshman year . . . the beginning of memories both precious and few. Sophomore year, our friendships grew and strengthened. Junior year, Graduation seemed so far away and the end of everything. Would all the great memories and dreams fade away? Seniors have brought themselves closer together making this year their best. They have learned to create an imprint on today's society and yet it is still only the beginning. The final year has ended and the Senior class of '78 is on its way to seek and accept the challenges and uncertainties of yesterday, today and tomorrow.

So it's over, at least for now.
And the parties, dances and tests are done,
We look around,
Meet each other's eyes and want
for a little more time.
Do you remember, all of those times?
Of Homecoming floats, assemblies and meetings,
of Math teachers, class elections and games,
They're a moment in the past,
Leave a happy mind and empty heart,
It's a closing book,
there's so much to do.
There was beauty, and times of fear.
Through the times and places that meant so much,
Through our honesty they will live on,
A little fainter perhaps,
Not quite as clear,
As they were at the time,
But lasting just the same,
memories never die.
Smiles were many, realizing what it is to care.
For ideas were exchanged in a curious eye,
For a strong pride was felt in times of need,
For doubts were conquered with a determined will,
We hear an empty hallway,
We see no one there,
We reach to touch nothing,
We live to go forward,
life is a hunter.
Take my hand, for one last time.
Try to steal a few more seconds of High School,
Try to hold on to a flickering candle,
Shed a million tears,
It's an outlet of sadness,
It's an outlet of joy,
We're graduating Seniors,
we're out in the world.
Four years together, knowing what it is to share.
We'll think of you and all we have done,
Nostalgia creeps in,
Our emotions and moods,
Are enlivened and confused.
We'll think of you in the future and hold on to just one more hope, that you'll remember us.

Juniors progress toward excellence

The Juniors are encountering many different situations this year, such as overnight retreats at the Friendship House and the ring ceremony. For some, it also means induction into the National Honor Society. The Juniors display spirit, as well as responsibility, which is expected of them as upperclassmen. Foley's Juniors prove each day that next year the class of '79 will make our school proud.

Sophomores look ahead with anticipation

A vital transition has taken place since freshman year. Sophomores are caught in an "in-between" position. They no longer possess freshman insecurities, but await the title of Upperclassmen. An important element of being a soph is the religion-out program. This program gives them the chance to tutor grade school students, and aid the elderly. Their spirit is a reflection of their adaptability to the Bishop Foley community.

First year creates lasting memories

The class of '81 entered Foley full-speed ahead. They made new friends, and as a unified force, showed their power and spirit. Frosh are known for their urge to compete in such activities as pep rallies, games, dances, and school elections. They have made an impact on others, teachers and upperclassmen alike, with their willingness to grow and develop Christian values. With the enthusiasm and sense of humor frosh display, the Foley family is looking forward to their future leadership.

Varsity football generates school spirit

The 1977 Varsity football team was the largest that Foley ever had. Of 51 players, 18 were seniors. But even with this show of strength, Foley could not manage to put together a successful football season. From the beginning of camp in August until the end of the season in October, the Varsity squad gave their all to be AA league power. Although the game scores don't show it, the Varsity team played many close and hard fought games throughout the season. The season seemed bleak until the last game of the 1977 season, in which the Ventures demolished U. of D. with a score of 32 to 6.

Varsity basketball battles tough season

Running, passing, dribbling, and long hours of practice went into the making of the Varsity basketball teams this year. Under the top-notch coaching of Mr. Chuck Gumbel and Mr. Angelo Fiorini, the Ventures battled through a tough league the entire season. A fighting team spirit has helped to create a unifying factor amongst team members. This year has been a turning point in the basketball program. Although it has not shown in many wins, both teams have played hard through every game and not given up until the last buzzer of the game. Both teams have shown Foley has grown in competitive strength and skill.

J.V. basketball dribbles way to victory

Bishop Foley's J.V. Basketball teams showed Foley's typical spirit and enthusiasm in competitive sports. The girls J.V. team, coached by Sr. Peggy Galloway, improved progressively throughout the season and ended up with a 0-0 record. The boys J.V. team approached every game with skill and strategy, overcoming numerous opponents. All in all, the '78 basketball season was exciting and fast moving.

Golf, Cross Country begin winning season

3↑

Being number one seems to be characteristic of the golf team. With Fr. Mike Zahorchak as their new coach, the golf team members find class AA a meaningful challenge. Although the majority of golfers will not be returning, the ones remaining hope to have a successful season on the green. This may have been the first season for girls cross country, but they proved to be successful with a fifth place in league, seventh in state. The team looks promising for next year with their freshman and sophomore runners returning. The boys finished with a 2-3 record after several disappointing close meets. Junior Varsity won their championship at Holly invitationals.

Wrestlers receive individual honors

In the sports world, wrestling has always typified skill and agility. At Foley, the Wrestling team "held its own" even when pitted against tough competition. The Grapplers competed in several tournaments during the '78 season. Even though they did not finish in first place, the Grapplers ended the year near the top. Coach Harold King realized a rewarding season with many of the wrestlers receiving individual honors. Not pictured: Mike Lewis.

Homecoming impassions students' emotions

Excitement builds for everyone as Spirit Week leads into Homecoming weekend. Included are such activities as T-shirt Day, Black and Gold Day, and a hall-decorating contest. Friday night brings a mellow evening of music at the Homecoming Dance where the Queen is chosen from the lovely Senior Court. On Saturday, Senior girls throw down the gauntlet which Juniors accept as challenge to a Powder Puff football game. Undue strain is inflicted upon a Grenada as individual classes try to pack their members into it. Sunday dawns with the parade of floats with themes based on movies, followed by the Ventures battling Aquinas. At day's end, smiles of success and pride are displayed on everyone's face.

1. The beautiful court consists of: Ann Mullaney, Annette Trudeau, Cindy Baumgart, Michaelene Christini, Tami Griffin, Patrice Gorgon, Marcia Somerville, Jean Gramann, Theresa Van Buhler, and Cathy Spencer. 2. Kathy Wren reaches for Theresa Van Buhler's flag as Colleen Donahue approaches for the tackle. 3. Tony Saliga dances with a contented Sue Heberer. 4. Judy Lombardi and alumnus Jim Nicosia appear happy together. 5. Homecoming queen, Jean Gramann, watches the game anxiously. 6. Venture man, Keith Tack, demonstrates the power of his sword. 7. Terry Wren transforms himself into a "Rah-Rah" girl for the Powder Puff game. 8. Seniors take pride in their winning float. 9. Class princesses Ann Mullaney, Annette Trudeau, and Cindy Baumgart ride in the parade.

Organizations vitalize Foley students

Foley offers students many opportunities to develop skills they will use throughout their lives. Student council members acquire leadership qualities in coordinating fund-raising events such as, the Blood Bank, bagel sales and various dances. To express their individual talents, Literary Club members create original poems and prose. Intellectually outstanding are those students nominated for National Merit Scholarships or commended for their achievements.

1. Mr. William Bolus and Paul Demark discuss plans for the next Student Council fund-raiser. 2. Hoping he may reciprocate, Maria Svacha tenderly kisses Linus.

National Merit Finalists and Commended Students — Sue Luther, Joe Peck, Karen Alig, Kay Alig, Ken Keith, Mike Ryan.

Mental ability counts in competition

Whereas sports like football and track rely on strength and speed for a winning season, the Forensics and Debate teams depend on logic and speaking ability. The National Honor Society is filled with some of Foley's highest ranked students scholastically. The Library Club keeps the Media Center running smoothly.

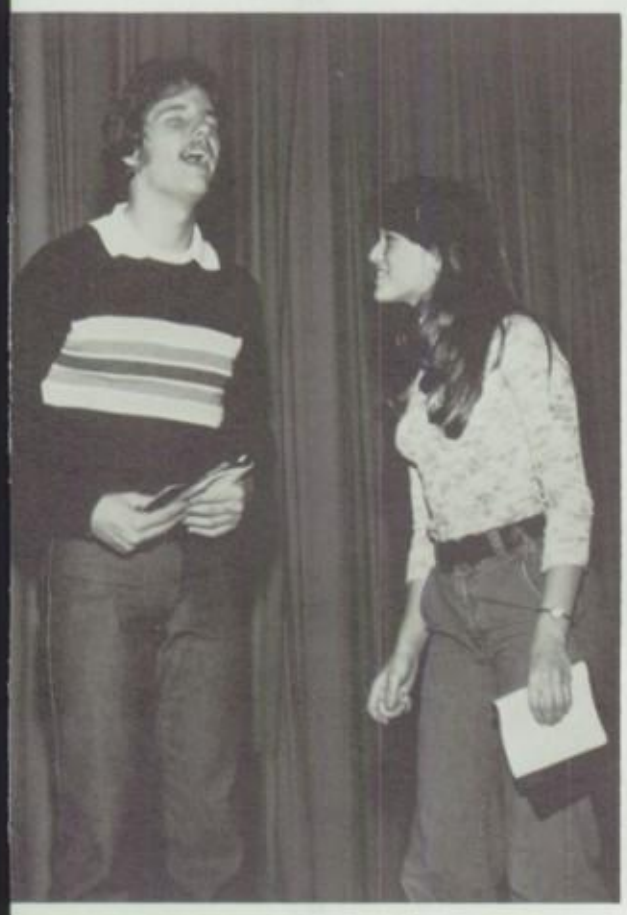
Li'l Abner, Daisy realize sweet dreams



The chorus makes the stage reverberate in this down-home production fo Li'l Abner. Just as citizens of Dogpatch without their beloved Mammy Yokum, the cast of Li'l Abner would be lost without the devoted Lark Veach, in the director's chair for the first time. Nancy Mason, well-noted for her musical direction, brings voices together in harmony. Foot-stomps, do-se-dos and a few wiggles were added by choreographer Elana Wills. Executive Producer Tim Saja, Stage Manager Val Scheid and Student Director Ann Genco join forces behind the scenes and will be credited with an uplifting musical.

1. Bob Diedrich, Rich Haifleigh, and Larry and Danny Angeli rock the audience. 2. Jerry McEvoy and Carol Jenuwine announce the "Bogart of the Year" award. 3. A pie in the face amazes Paul Demark. 4. Performers display variety of talent

From Debby Boone to Queen, a pie in the face to a clown pantomime, the acts in the '78 Variety Show proved the versatility of many Foley students. Audiences were entertained by piano solos, a fine guitarist, and a pair of dancers — not to mention the combined efforts of the emcees and everyone else who made this terrific show possible. The mixture of some of Foley's "crazies" and several serious performers has always made variety shows memorable — and '78 was no exception.

Mary Louise Hickey puts all her energies into this year's performance — a rendition of "The Miracle Worker."

Special activities aid scholarship fund

3↑

Pancake breakfasts, Mary Louise Hickey's performance, and roller skating parties provide fun events with a purpose. Their aim is to raise money for the faculty established scholarship fund. Profits from student council dances help to diminish prominent bills. These efforts demonstrate the supportiveness between faculty and students.

Foley cheerleaders fire up for victory

The 1977-78 cheerleading season has been one of laughter, excitement and tears. Under the direction of Mrs. Veach, the J.V. and Varsity cheerleaders went to the UCA Camp where they won an assortment of ribbons and spirit awards. This year has proven to be quite special because of continuing friendships and united effort. Despite the hectic, mixed-up delirious times, cheerleading has proven that it is really laughter and good times.

Venturettes 'Magic' fascinates audiences

The 1977-78 Venturettes, Foley's spectacular modern jazz dance squad, have really produced prize winning performances this year. Co-ordinator Andrea Reuvers choreographed routines for the sixteen members. The Venturettes have executed superb dances at pep rallies, football, and basketball games. Three returning members from the '76-77 squad combined with the thirteen new members enchanted all on-lookers with their fantastic ability. "The Force" is with the Venturettes.

Donkeys and intramurals create enjoyment

↑3

Under the direction of Mr. Gary Betzler, donkey basketball and intramural sports have been successful. Bowling, racquetball, and basketball are the three sports which are offered to all and have been received with tremendous enthusiasm. Donkey basketball was sponsored by the Scholarship Fund this year. This activity sparked laughs due to the donkeys' antics. The Seniors emerged victoriously after the '78 game.

Moms and dads keep activities rolling

While seldom seen around Foley's halls during school hours, the mom's and dad's clubs play an important role in keeping Foley going. The mom's club does their share by sponsoring faculty luncheons, working in the main office, and supporting the media center. Foley's dads involve themselves in such activities as Thursday night bingo, sporting events, and other fund raisers.

Congratulations Seniors

I sit beside the fire and think
of all that I have seen,
of meadow flowers and butterflies in summers that have been;
Of yellow leaves and gossamer in autumns that there were,
with morning mist and silver sun
and wind upon my hair.
I sit beside the fire and think of how the world will be when winter comes without a spring that I shall ever see.
For still there are so many things that I have never seen:
in every wood in every spring
there is a different green.
I sit beside the fire and think
of people long ago,
and people who will see a world
that I shall never know.
But all the while I sit and think of times there were before I listen for returning feet and voices at the door.

There is a Season for Everything
A time for every occupation under heaven:
A time for giving birth,
A time for dying,
A time for planting,
A time for uprooting,
A time for knocking down,
A time for building,
A time for tears,
A time for laughter,
A time for mourning,
A time for dancing.

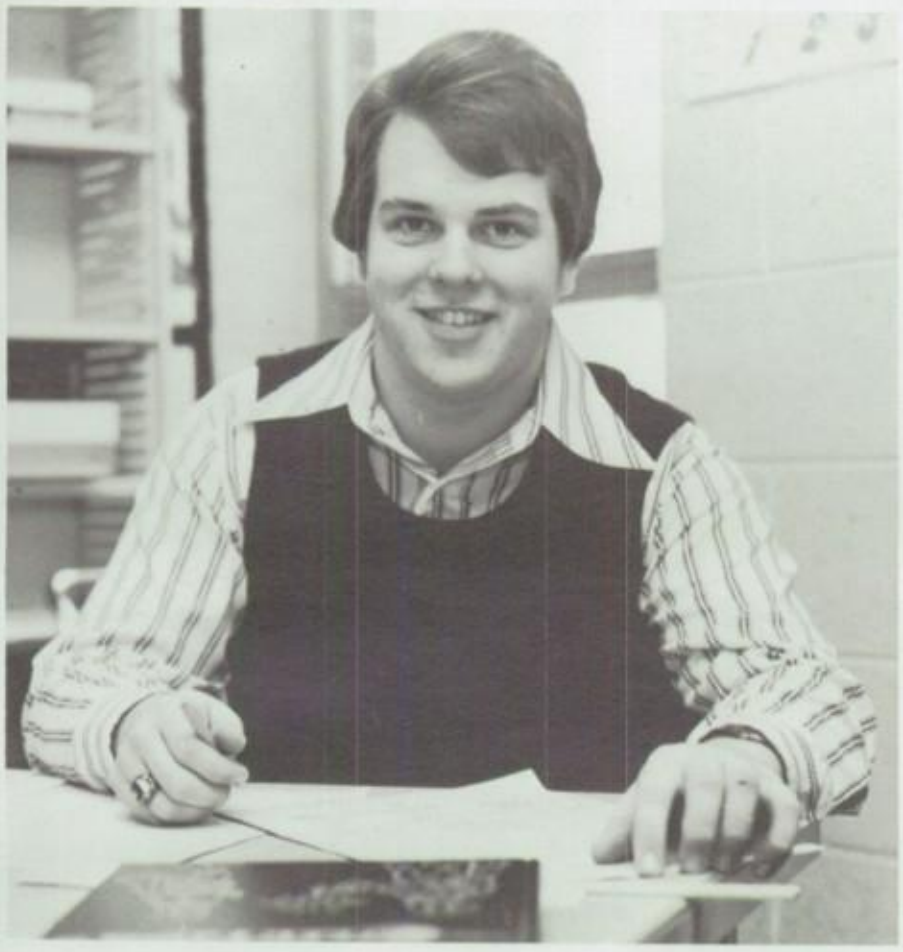
Notes from exhausted co-editors



It is amazing that the year is already over and that the book has been completed. This sensational yearbook, I think, is a reflection of the staff. People that I shall miss are Mrs. Favrow and other certain people at Foley. With newly-learned yearbook techniques, we feel that this is one of the best books ever produced by a Reflections staff.

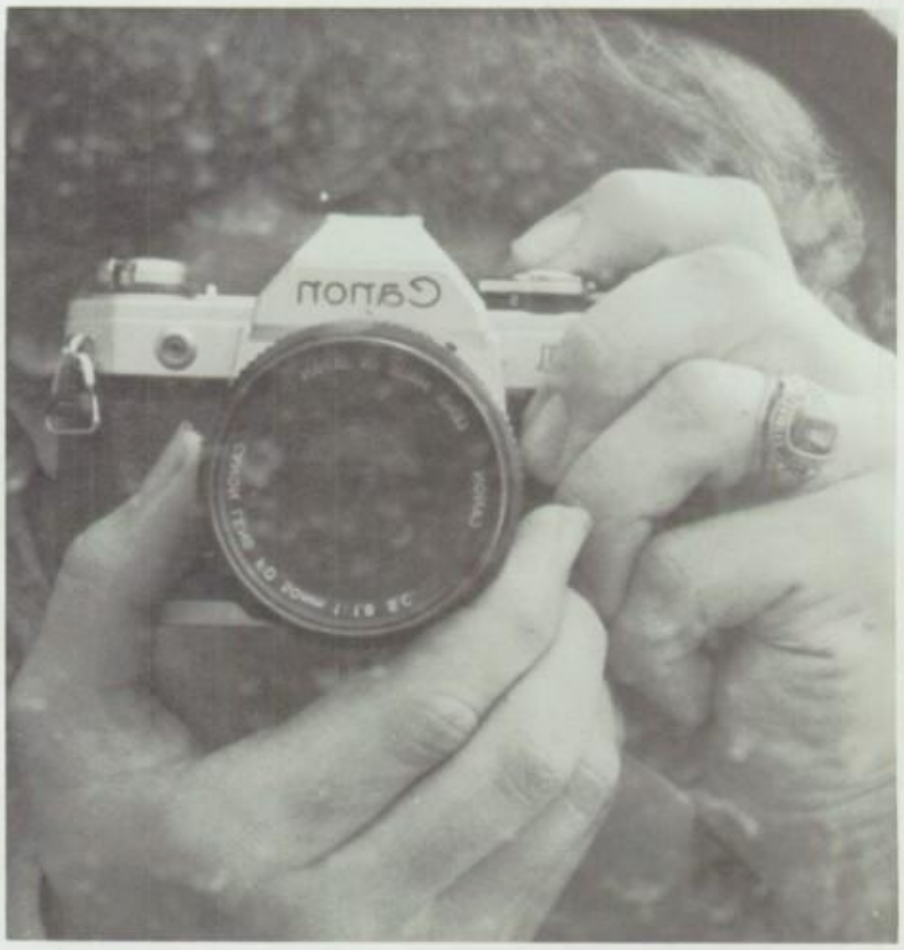
A special thanks to Jack Lewis for his "Rush" jobs on photographs which we needed to complete layouts.

Another grateful thanks to Tim Vandekerckhove and Tom Avery for their help in typing and completing the index.

A special thanks to Sam Slis of Taylor Publishing Company for his creative ideas and helpful assistance in prompting us to meet our deadlines early.

In conclusion I am satisfied that the '78 book is a success and realize that the hard-working staff made that possible.

James E. Szalony



I know that many of you have seen this view of me many a time. For those of you who have resented my taking your picture, I am sorry, but it was my job. For those of you who have liked your picture being taken, I wish you would not have run down the hall saying, "Take MY picture."

I would like to thank a few people; Eric Schwaub was one person that helped me immensely, on rainy football games, Pep Rallies, and other school functions — with his camera in hand. Richard Haifleigh was another great help along with the rest of the journalism class.

One last thanks to Eric Nequist, for the film that he sent — for the title page picture and the cover shot.

Have A HoBie DAY!

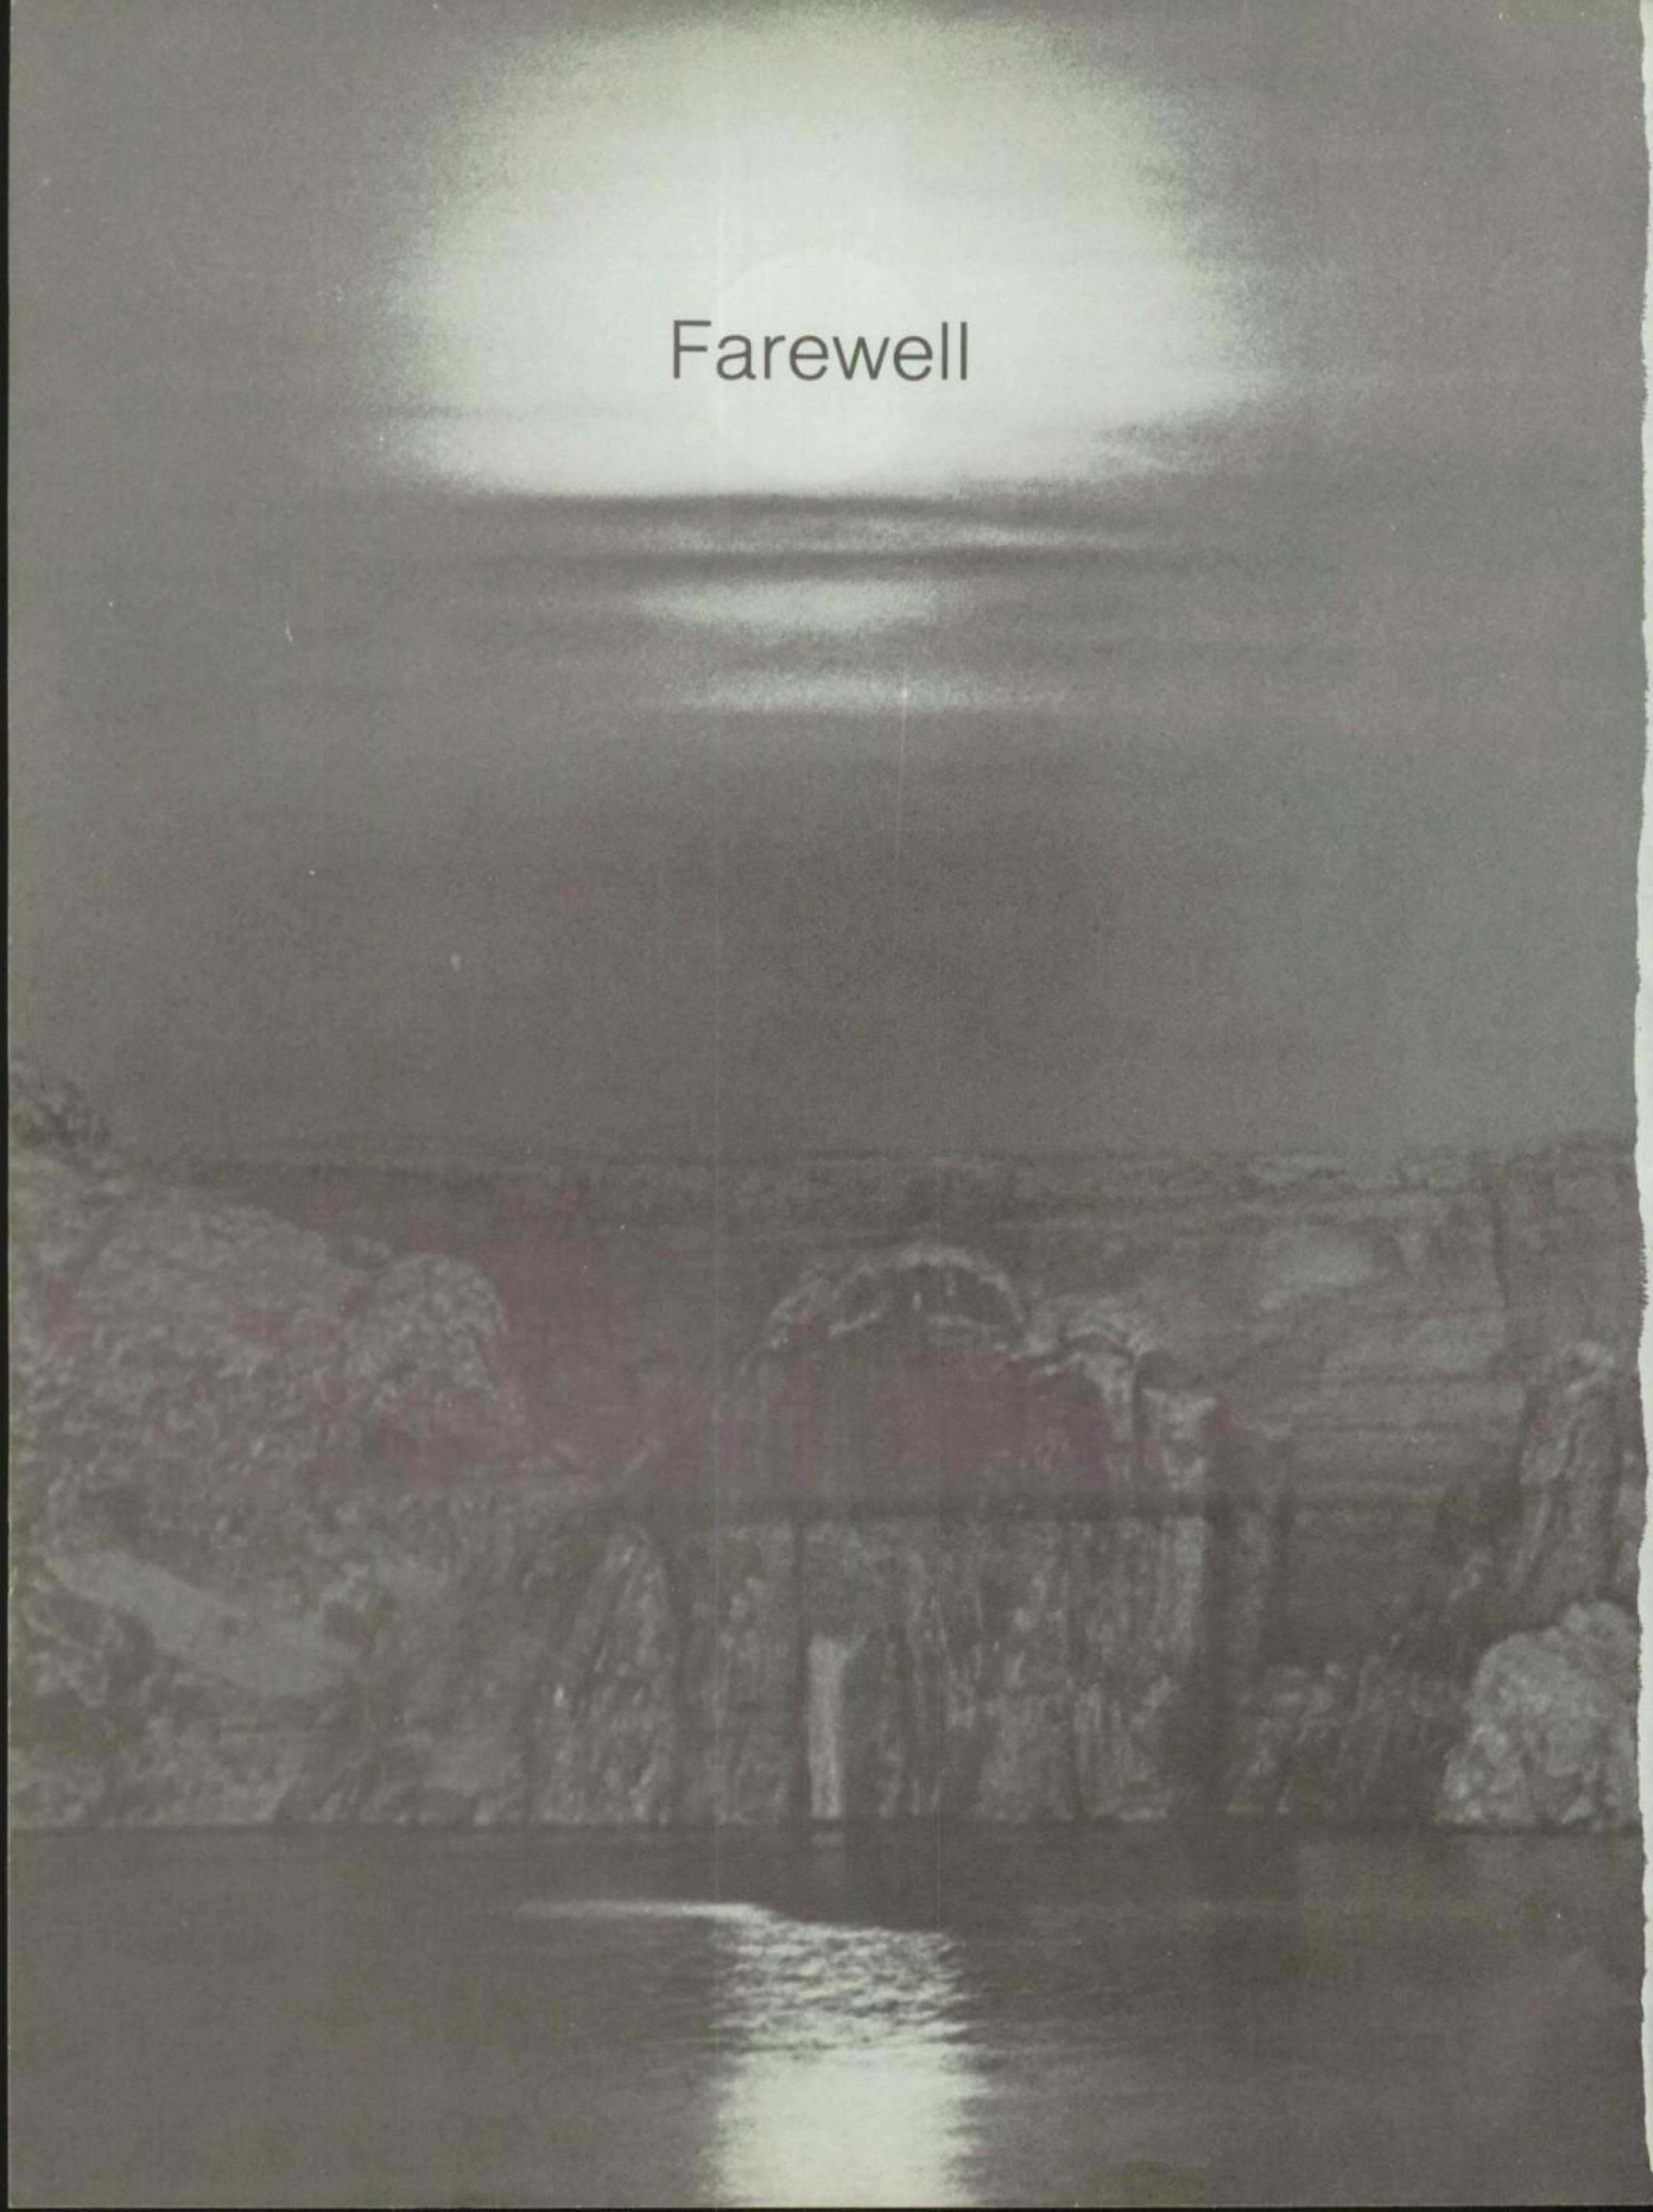
Farewell



Robin,
Wish I could of gotten to know you better. You're real nice and that's why I wish we could become better friends. See ya next year. Good Luck!
Luv,
Sue
R.M.A

Robin,
Your the first person I met in Foley. Remember at the cafe. on the first day? I think youre really sweet! I hope next year I have you in more of my classes (Not Mordenski's!)
Have fun this summer
Brenda

Robin,
Its Been Really nice Knowing you, Im GLAD I met you. Well At least we SURVIVED The BUS FOR A YEAR have A GREAT SUMMER
hope TO see you AGAIN
good LUK "81"
Jim ROMAN

Hi Sweetie;
I'm so proud of you, Luv—Your Mom

Robin, you are a sweet girl with a lot of class. I hope you get that part you tried out for. Remember me? I'm the guy who sat behind you in Mrs. Rodriguez's class. Have a nice summer. Maybe I'll see you at the Dance club. Keep in touch. Call me collect at 633-2211. Love ya, Kim Roberts

Robin, Have a Cute Summer!! Keep in touch. Call me collect at 633-2211. Love ya, Kim Roberts

Robin
to a good friend
I had the pleasure of meeting and who had the same feeling (bad)
about a girl we knew

Good Luck
Sorry (Arabic)

Robin,
Well, we've survived
one year of the bus;
let's hope next year goes by faster! Best luck always!
